Om shanti.

Taking everyone's love remembrances, I went to offer Bhog to Baba. Baba through his Drishti, today was giving a lot of light, and a lot of might. Baba's Light was changing into inner powers. And might also.

I then said: Baba I have brought Bhog...and Baba accepted Bhog with a lot of love.

Then Baba looked at us and said: Baba has lots of love for each child. The Father always will give love. But in that love, some children are able to claim the inheritance. Every child receives the inheritance. Baba gives equally. But, after getting inheritance, becoming worthy by using it in a worthwhile way.

The first inheritance is Baba's love. When you experience Baba's love, then you have to share that love with everyone. Before we would say 'I love you', but now we say 'God loves you'.

And those who experience that love also recognize Baba as Teacher. The Teacher's love is his teachings. To make the children not only sensible, but also an income – because study always brings income. So, an unlimited income is earned through this knowledge. Then there is Baba's relationship of Satguru; He keeps giving blessings all the time.

The Father gives the inheritance. The Teacher makes us worthy of an unlimited income. And the Satguru gives us blessings.

So Baba said, even if you have all relationships with Baba, these three relationships especially have to remember all the time: Father, Teacher and Satguru. When you remember the Father, you automatically remember the inheritance. When you listen to knowledge, you naturally remember the Teacher. And when you experience Baba's Blessings helping you at every step of your life, you remember the Satguru.

The attainments will remind you of the relationships, and the relationships will remind you of the attainments. At the very auspicious Confluence Age, whatever you receive from God, you share with everyone. You share knowledge. You share good wishes, blessings. You are following the Father in all relationships, which Baba said you all are doing. But always remember that our intellect has to be with Baba – not influenced by anything else. The line of intellect has to be clear. And then, Baba said, you will get directions from Baba...you will catch Baba's signals for everything.

Baba in a very loving way, was sharing with the children. And then Baba was again giving Drishti, which was filled with light and might today.

And finally, Baba shared love remembrances for everyone.

Om shanti.
